

LIKE A MEMORABLE MOVIE SCENE

Lighting can make a considerable difference on how you feel in a space. It also affects the function of objects. Having a device to manage the lights in room with various options is a great opportunity to make different scenes and life experiences. TIS smart home company presents Venera Dimmer; a high quality panel to dim the lighting in home spaces.

This wall panel has three elegantly designed touch buttons to ramp up and dim down lighting. You can customize dimming percentage based on your project aesthetics.

All you have to do is to remove old switch and install Venera Dimmer, connect it to Internet and take control of lighting in your home.

Florescent, energy saving lights, Halogen, etc. and every other kind of lamp is configurable with Venera Dimmer. Just install this panel and start making favorable settings with it. Imagine one wants to tell her husband that he is going to be a father. Isn't that lovely to create a romantic atmosphere with enough dimness by only a touch of fingertip? With Venera Dimmer you do not have to worry about candles going out anymore.

Venera Dimmer has a 2.4 Hz inbuilt WIFI and its automatic connection to Internet guarantees limitless access to home lights. This capability enables controlling its function through other TIS devices that have a mobile app from everywhere in the world you are.

Further, Venera has an online timer which is very beneficial. For instance, you can set its internal schedule as such to have different light level in hallway in different round-the-clock times so when you wake up at night to use W.C., the hallway lamp will not discomfort your eyes by its sharp light, rather, it acts as a nice night lamp, also you can define a specific time for light dimming. For example, you can set it to ramp up the main lamp in living room at sunset in short winter days. Venera Dimmer keeps your home warm and bright.

Besides, Venera Dimmer's energy meter is a good tool to know about energy consumption per month and year. This way you will know when and how much to manage your consumption.

This easy-function panel is available in Black and White and its button color is customizable in a 256 color range so it easily goes with your taste and interior design.

Install Venera Dimmer and enjoy its capability to enrich your life.
